

NATIONS OF THE WORLD

FRANCE

Europe, France

France

Mont Blanc

THE LAND

France is in the continent of E _____. In area, it is the largest _____ in Western Europe.

To the north of France is the English C _____, separating France and the United K _____. France's southern coastline is on the Mediterranean S _____. Also to the south of France, is S _____, separated from France by the P _____ Mountains. To the west of France is the B ____ of Biscay. The A _____ Ocean lies further west. The largest mountain in France is Mont B _____ which is part of the European A _____. The longest river is the Loire R _____ in central France. The best known river is the S _____ River which flows through the capital city of P _____.

A maritime climate exists in F _____. The effects of the ocean provide mild _____ and cool summers. The Mediterranean coastline offers warmer sun-filled days for _____ of visitors. The R _____ is part of this coastline. The Riviera is one of the world's great _____ locations.

THE PEOPLE

France shares a border with the countries of S _____, I _____, S _____, G _____, L _____ and Belgium. France's population is very similar to that of I _____ and the U _____ Kingdom. In Europe, only Russia and G _____ have larger populations.

The largest city and capital _____ of France is P _____. Famous landmarks in Paris include the E _____ Tower, the Champs E _____ and the Arc de T _____. The L _____, with its priceless art works, is also in Paris. The historical Left and R _____ Banks are also in this city otherwise renowned for _____ and _____. Other large cities include Marseilles, Lyon and N _____.

France is renowned for its _____. The _____ are grown in such famous regions as Burgundy, C _____ and Bordeaux. To compliment the wines, French cuisine is also very popular. French _____ are world famous. Two peculiarly French dishes are frogs _____ and snails.

French people love sport. C _____, _____, _____ and skiing are very popular. The "Tour de F _____" is the world's premier cycling event. The French Tennis O _____ is also a world renowned event.

The national anthem is "La Marseilles" and the flag is red, white and _____. The French language is used at the Olympics. G'day in French is _____. The term "au revoir" is used to say _____.

France and its capital city of Paris, remain two of the world's most popular tourist _____.

Riviera
Sea
River
Europe
Pyrenees
France
Winters
Alps
Holiday
Country
Bay
Atlantic
Blanc
Kingdom
Seine
Paris
Spain
Millions
Channel

Romance

The Louvre

Fashion

Eiffel Tower

Wine

Grapes

Arc de
Triomphe,
Champs Elysee

Italy
United
City
Right
Wines
Switzerland
Legs
Cycling
Italy
Fashion
Grapes
Elysee
Blue
Spain
Tennis
Triomphe
Goodbye
Paris
Germany
Nice
Romance
Soccer
Louvre
Luxembourg
Eiffel
Champagne
Chefs
Destinations
France
Bonjour
Open
Germany

